

At AppClose, we speak Co-Parenting. We believe that shared expenses and obligations should be paid, tracked, and recorded properly. So, no matter how busy you are, or if you're on the go, with AppClose you can make and receive payments via ipayou.

Simple & Safe

Your account information is encrypted and protected on secure servers to guard against unauthorized transactions, and your bank account information is never shared.

Send and Receive Money

Easily set up your FREE ipayou account, link your bank account, and you are all set! Connect with a co-parent, relative, or professional to send or receive payments. It's simple & secure.

Export Financial Reports

Co-parents are often affected by temporary orders or interim financial agreements for months and final decrees for years. Transaction records from ipayou enable co-parents to prove to state and local agencies, courts, attorneys, and other professionals that the co-parent has complied with a court order or interim agreement.

Why use AppClose?

Calendars

Organize different areas of your life with our Parenting, Work/Professional, and Me Time calendars.

Our built-in parenting schedule templates make parenting schedules easy to create, use, and share and can be created specific to each child when sibling schedules are different.

Scheduling and sharing children's events, activities, and appointments is easy, and our calendar notes feature lets you discuss and keep track of conversations related to specific events right from your calendar.

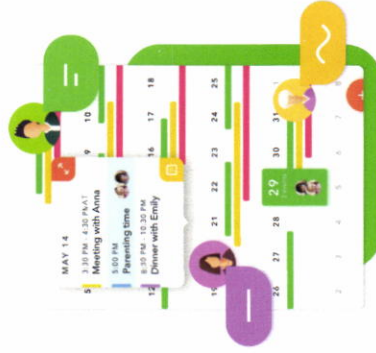

Messenger

Communicate with people and professionals in your circle by using our one-on-one or group chat messaging features.

Messages within an active account cannot be altered or deleted, and you can search and export any conversation by date or keyword.

AppClose is safe, secure, and password protected.

Check-in

With this exclusive private and non-trackable feature, you can now keep accurate records of when you arrive or depart any location, such as picking up or dropping off kids at exchanges or anywhere else.

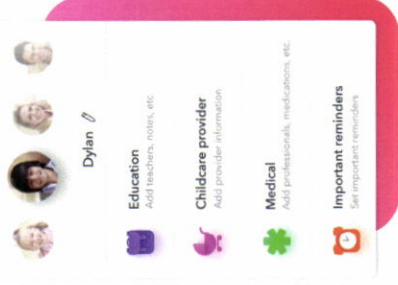

Requests

Send, receive, and pay reimbursement requests for items such as medical/dental expenses, day care, extracurricular activities, school items, etc. Scanning features make it easy to share receipts and other documents.

My Circle

By adding a co-parent, family members, or third parties (caregivers, professionals, etc.) to your circle, you'll benefit from keeping communications and shared information with these persons all in one place.

You can share your parenting schedule, children's medical or mental health contacts, school-related information, measurements/clothing sizes, child care providers, emergency contacts, and more with anyone connected to your circle.

Export Records

When you use the app, you have the ability to share, export, and print any of your records or any shared records you might need for FREE for personal use or litigation purposes.

Professional Access

Professionals such as attorneys, ad litems, and therapists can connect to your circle to discuss concerns related to your child, co-parenting, or issues inside a family law case. When agreed or ordered by a court, conversations between co-parents can also be observed by connected professionals.
